Movies

- Captain Fantastic - R
- Martian Child - PG
  - Raspberry Magic - Not Rated
- Butterfly (about Julia Butterfly Hill) - R

Movement

The Humble Warrior pose can help us tune into our sense of awe and empowerment at the revolution taking place through protests while keeping us grounded in our own power. This video demonstrates a flow to move into and out of the pose; this video does not have Humble Warrior, but gives a great foundation for trying the pose using a chair.

Craft / Activity

These coloring pages by the Cascadia Art Museum are based on works of art, many of them from our bioregion. This exercise is a series of questions to help us explore, realize and know what we know about where we live.

Songs / Music

Recess Monkey
Captain Babypants
Niko
Tanya Tagaq
A Tribe Called Red
Ursa Minor
Black Belt Eagle Scout
Parisalexa
Channel Q (LGTBQ+ radio station)

Promoting & Preserving Local Artists

Spiritual Practice

Pastor Tom has given homework to the congregation - to think about Evergreen twice a day, hold the congregation in our hearts. Maybe we can frame it as a hope - twice a day, try something like this: with hand on your heart, say or think "I hope the best for Evergreen."

CHILDREN & YOUTH

We recognize the following people as contributors to our program. Thank you!

Thank you for helping make our RE program a success!

Classes and Fellowship activities are now on Zoom. Our dedicated adults help keep the space safe and allow us to move into breakout rooms for smaller group discussions.

This summer we're following the Sing to the Power curriculum found in the Tapestry of Faith portion of the UUA website.

We're updating some of the stories to make the content relevant and updated; some choir members are contributing recorded audio.

We also offer storytimes, Family Fellowship, game playing, Lego building, crafting/art and other gatherings to keep ourselves connected to each other.

PLAYING WITH THE SEASON

A TIME TO LAUGH

Q: What do you call a rabbit with fleas?

A: Bugs Bunny.

Q: What's a tornadoe's favorite dance?

A: The Twist.

Q: Why was the strawberry sad?

A: Its mom was in a jam.
